Courses: What's Next?

Thank you to the departments and programs who proposed courses to be offered in Summer Session 2018. We received over 500 open enrollment courses. Kudos to you all for helping students reduce their time-to-degree.

In December, the Summer Session Advisory Committee will meet to review courses. You will hear the outcome for each course from Summer Session before the campus winter closure, December 22. Approved courses will be posted on the Summer Session website as a Preview of Classes so that students can begin to plan their summer course load. For any questions with this process, please contact Matt Sapien at msapien@ucsd.edu or x44744.

Season's Greetings

As the days shorten and temperatures drop, a fair amount of people celebrate some holidays. This is true, even at UC San Diego. This is a direct link to the marketing piece for the UCSD Bookstore Holiday Sale. The bookstore has moved to push its advertisement in a more green and eco friendly direction and is sending out their marketing in digital format only. The sale goes from December 4 to 16. For questions, contact the bookstore directly at x47323.

Appointment File Training: Materials & Make-up

Summer Session hosted the Faculty Appointment File Preparation Training last Wednesday, November 15th. The training had presenters from Summer Session and Graduate Division. Training materials will be sent out later this week. As always, the training materials can also be found on the Summer Session website, under Staff & Faculty. The Summer Session office will reach out to those who could not make the training with options for a make-up session. For any questions or interest in the make-up session, please contact Matt Sapien know at msapien@ucsd.edu or x44744.
